Functional Skills Maths Level 2-Vali Nasser 2015-04-17 Whichever Exam Board you are working for you will find this book useful for Functional skills Maths level 2. In the actual test although the use of calculators is allowed it is sometimes useful to do simple sums with confidence without using calculators. In addition to basic addition, subtraction, multiplication and division you are expected to be familiar with fractions, decimals, percentages, ratios and proportions in everyday context. Everyday problems often involve being able to estimate as well as being able to work with simple formulas like Speed, Distance and Time and of course conversions from one type of currency to another when you go on holiday! Also, basic Data Interpretation or Statistics is useful to make sense of data that is presented numerically or visually in a workplace or in newspaper articles. There are also chapters on basic shapes and spaces since you also need to be know how to work out perimeters, areas and volumes of basic shapes as well as be familiar with plans and drawing nets! Although the examples in this book start simply they gradually build up to Level 2. Finally the test questions at the end contain detailed answers.

How the Other Half Learns-Robert Pondiscio 2020-06-02 The promise of public education is excellence for all. But that promise has seldom been kept for low-income children of color in America. In How the Other Half Learns, teacher and education journalist Robert Pondiscio focuses on Success Academy, the network of controversial charter schools in New York City founded by Eva Moskowitz, who has created something unprecedented in American education: a way for large numbers of engaged and ambitious low-income families of colour to get an education for their children that equals and even exceeds what wealthy families take for granted. Her results are astonishing, her methods unorthodox. Decades of well-intended efforts to improve our schools and close the 'achievement gap' have set equity and excellence at war with each other: If you are wealthy, with the means to pay private school tuition or move to an affluent community, you can get your child into an excellent school. But if you are poor and black or brown, you have to settle for 'equity a
